DISORDER ON AN EXCURSION STEAM-

ER.—There was an exciting scene on the steamer Samuel J. Pentz before she left on her 7:15 trip to River View yesterday even-ing. The boat had been chartered by the Ancient Order of Hiberniane of this city for their annual excursion, and during the day but little savoring of disorder occurred, but about seven o'clock, shortly before the steamer arrived at her wharf at this port, a crowd had gathered on the pier, a large par-centage of whom purposed enjoying the ride down the river. Many others were on band as spectators. Among those of the former class was a well-known and boisterous individual who had purchased a ticket, but whose presence on the boat was objected to by some of the members of the committee and he was put ashore. The steamer was about to leave the pier when two boys who had been brought home from River View for fishting personed themselves on too fighting perched themselves on top of a pile and one stepped on the upper deck of the steamer. A deckmate on the boat saw the act and tried to force the boy to jump ashore, when a number of adult friends of the youth ran to his rescue, they deeming it a dangerous feat for the boy to perform as the steamer was then several feet from the wharf. A special policeman on the boat ran to the mate's rescue and drew a blackjack, but it was wrenched from him, and for a time there seemed to be a disposition to strike a head wherever seen. The crowd on the steamer surged, all were talking, or rather yelling at once, and pandemonium prevailed. An attempt was in the meantime being made to warp the steamer back to the wharf, but the crowd on the pier, most of whom seemed anxious to particspate in the melee, grew menacing and endeavored to prevent a colored man from catching the steamer's line. The latter en-deavored to perform his duty however and was pushed overboard with the small rope attached to the hawser entangled about his neck. All attention was then turned to the steamer and the darkey was rescued by Officer Griffin and one or two bystanders. Mr. Griffin and two or three other policemen (not on duty) sprang aboard, blowing whistles in the meantime for reinforcements, and in a faire had taken and got on the boat again. He was arrested and looked up at the station house, but no other arrests were made, probably from the fact that it was next to impossible to determine accurately who were the ori-ginators of the disorder. Later the steamer proceeded on her way down the river. It is but just to say that the Hibernians, as an organization, and the committee in charge are in no wise responsible for last evening's scenes. They took all precautions to have everything done decently and in order, and none regret the unfortunate occurrences more than they.

Indeed a Free Reference Library seems essential to the public school system of Alexandria, but the straightened circumstances of the school fund seems a bar to any progress in that direction. If, however, the joint committees of finance and of school houses and furniture can furnish a room and provide for heating and lighting the same and keeping open the Free Reference Library during school hours and also from 7 to 10 at night, the committee on studies and discipline will make an earnest effort to furnish Books of Reference without cost to the school fund.

The Superintendent was authorized to commence the closing of the schools on Friday, June 21, and to continue their closing in the order he may see fit, and the Clerk was directed to procure the memorial medal and necessary certificates of distinction,

The schools will be closed in the following order: Washington, on Friday, June 21; Lee, Monday 24; Hallowell, Tuesday 25, and Snowden,

The Superintendent called attention to the need of proper water closets for Peabody building and said as the sewer had been laid in the alley adjoining the building the matter should be considered as soon as possible. A Proposed Enterprise.—The success of the wholesale grocery trade of Alexandria, together with that of drugs, fertilizers, lumber, &c., have stimulated some enterprising people in this city to consider plans for the establishment of a wholesale boot and shoe trade here. They argue logically that if other branches of business have grown into such proportions from small beginnings no good reason can be urged why others in the hands of practical people cannot be expanded in a corresponding manner. The shipping facilities of Alexandria are unexcelled and they are recognized not only by our own people but by those from other places, and if our people fail to take advantage of them the blame will be at their own doors. The projectors of the enterprise alluded to above will have the support and encouragement of all who are longing for the other places. ALEXANDRIA'S LUMBER TRADE.—

The eteady growth of Alexandria's lumber trade has occasionally attracted the attention of those interested in the advancement of the city's shipping interests. The expansion of this business is an earnest of what could be done in other lines, as there is no gainsaying nor resisting the fact that if the city affords the best distributing centre for one article it is equally eligible for all others. Alexandria lumber dealers at present find themselves taxed to their atmost to fill all orders which come to them, and they are from places a long distance from this city. For instance some of Smoot & Co.'s, customers are in Pittsburg, Pa., others in Cumberland, Md., and different places in neighboring States. The steamer Dennis Simmons a day or two ago came here from Williamston, N. C., with 184,000 chingles aboard consigned to the form. They were taken from the 184,000 chingles aboard consigned to this firm. They were taken from the steamer to the cars—which are almost at the dock—and sent towards different points of the compass to fill orders which had accumulated in but a few days. The firm says as many more could have been disposed of. The annual output of the several mills of the Simmons Company in North Carolina is 8,000,000 singles. Smoot & Co. purchased 5,000,000 of their product last year.

WEDDING.—The Methodist Episcopal Church South was at 8 o'clock last night the scene of a pretty wedding, when Miss Edith May Grabam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Grabam, became the bride of Mr. Henry Newlon Brawner. The chancel was banked with palms, ferns, and potted plants and a large number of friends witnessed the ceremony, the Rev. E. V. Regester, the rector, officiating. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage while a wed-ding march was played by Miss Alice Thomas. The bride was attired in a Thomas. The bride was attired in a gown of white organdie and carried a beautiful bouquet of bride roses. Miss Alice Graham, a niece of the bride, was maid of honor. She was dressed in pink organdie and carried a bouquet of La France roses. Mr. Oden H. Gray, of Washington, was best man. The ushers were Mesers. David Graham, R. M. Graham, William T. Pollard and C. Elward Brawner, of this city, and Mesers. Philip Otterback and Edwin L. Cockrell, of Washington. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, on Prince street, after bride's parents, on Prince street, after which Mr. and Mrs. Brawner left for Atlantic City. Upon their return they will reside in this city.

RAINY WEATHER .- The hot wave co RAINY WEATHER.—The hot wave of the past few days was followed late yesterday evening, by a thunder shower which seemed to split and go entirely around Alexandria. There was but a bare suspicion of rain in this city, only a few drops falling. Later the temperature fell perceptibly, and the remainder of the night was pleasant with coessional clouds obscuring ant with cecasional clouds obscuring the stars. Between six and seven o'clock this morning rain began to fall and the showers at times were copious. There were intermissions however, but the conditions remained threatening although the sun came out in the after
